FIRE FIGHTERS CROSS BORDER TO AID CANADA

SPOKANE, Wash., July 18.—Eighty American fire fighters under the direction of United States forest service officials crossed the Canadian border to day to fight a fire over approximately 10,000 acres which is threatening to enter a valuable stand of timber east of Corral Hill, Idaho. Originating on the American side, it burned over a considerable area without doing any considerable damage and crossing the border destroyed timber valued at $200,000. The flames now are again moving southward.

A fire on Pack river covering 6000 to 8000 acres was still beyond control in valuable green timber. The fire on the Lost Fork of Jordan creek in the Couer d'Alene forest out of Heron, Mont., was reported as quiet but not within control. It has spread to an approximate area of seven square miles, still on burned over land.

FIRES ON THE PAYETTE NATIONAL FOREST IN IDAHO

To prepare and be ready for any fire on the national forests within this district, the forest supervisors have been authorized by the district forester, to hire more men where the situation is serious. Returning soldiers are being given the preference.

Two fires on the Payette national forest in Idaho were reported by the forest supervisor this morning. While the report does not make known the details, it states that the atmosphere is so smoky that the lookouts cannot see to locate fires, and that high winds prevail. The report also stated that more men are necessary to combat the fire.

No further report has been received by the district forester from the Idaho national forest where a large fire has been burning for several days. Three days ago it was reported that the fire had burned over 6,000,000 feet of timber and that it was costing hundreds of dollars each day to fight it.

Mr. Kneipp stated this morning that the district has been very lucky so far in not having any serious forest fires. However, he said, the stage is set and a report of such a fire may be received at any minute. The situation seems to be very bad in district No. 1, which includes Montana and northern Idaho.

So far this season there has been but few electrical storms in this district. This accounts for so few fires. The season for these storms, especially in Idaho, is about due.

Late Report.
Reports were received by District Forester L. F. Kneipp shortly after noon today that two serious fires had broken out on the Weiser and Idaho national forests. The fire on the Idaho forest is being fought by a force of fifty men, while that on the Weiser forest only a few miles distant, is being fought by a force of twelve men and ten more have been sent for.

The fires are only a short distance from each other.

It is believed by the forest officials that a brush fire burning on a small strip of land between the two forests started the fire. No further detail of the fire were reported.

Experts to Assist Merchants in the Making Tax Returns

A club is being formed among the merchants and other business men of Ogden for the purpose of centralizing and simplifying the work of making out federal tax returns. This is one of the most difficult duties each merchant or business firm has to perform, as it requires an extremely accurate accounting of all revenues and expenditures.

The club is being organized by Curtis C. Benedict, a representative of the Robert E. Thompson Company, Inc., of Los Angeles, California, who was granted a permit by the Merchants of Ogden to solicit club members here. When the club is formed, an expert will be in charge of the work who will take care of the records for each member, whether individual or corporation, and will make out the returns to the government, according to the legal requirements. As this work requires a special knowledge of the federal tax law, the expert will be of assistance to the business men who are too rushed to devote the necessary time to the matter.

No Cause of Action Is Verdict of Jury In Dudley Chase Case

No cause of action was the verdict rendered last yesterday afternoon by the jury in Judge A. W. Agee's court in the case of E. C. Richardson against Dudley Chase. The jury, however, returned a verdict for the defendant's favor against the plaintiff for $122.28.

The action was brought by Richardson, representing the Ogden Wholesale Grocery company, against Chase, representing the People's Wholesale Grocery company, and was to recover $5,938.32 on the first cause of action and $62.72 upon the second cause of action. It was alleged that Chase acted as the selling agent for Richardson in the People's company for the sale of groceries to the trade on a percentage basis.

The defendant set forth in the hearing that the contract between Chase and the Ogden Wholesale Grocery company had been modified. The defendant's claim against the plaintiff was for a typewriter and adding machine given to the plaintiff.

The jury, which returned the verdict last yesterday was composed of A. G. Fell, foreman; John W. Russell, Ed P. Horrocks, James M. Canse, Charles G. Price, Frederick Barker, James A. McCulloch and Robert H. Hodge.

Not Allowed to Sell Stock to the People of Utah

The application of the Canyon Comedy company to sell $10,000 worth of stock in Ogden was denied by the state securities commission. It was shown that the report from Gordon Snow, secretary of the commission, was that four manuscripts for comedy films were turned in by J. C. Robinson, principal proprietor of the company, for $10,000 in stock, and on the further showing that the stock was to be issued to obtain money to pay such current expenses as salaries of the company's officers.

TRIBUNE LAWYER ON STAND IN THE FORD CASE

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 18.—The heart of Henry Ford's libel suit against the Chicago Daily Tribune was reached today when Attorney Elliott G. Stevenson, representing the Tribune, began to question Mr. Ford regarding the alleged libelous editorial, headed "Ford Is An Anarchist," published in the Tribune June 23, 1916.

Attorneys Alfred Lucking and Alfred G. Murphy peppered the examination with objections on behalf of the plaintiff, and Mr. Lucking characterized the examination in the course of Mr. Stevenson's attempt to get the witness to admit that he was an "ignorant idealist," as brutal and particularly distressing to so modest a man as Mr. Ford.

Court was in session nearly two hours before Mr. Ford was recalled, the time being consumed in the reading of portions of the transcript of the examination of General Erasmus Weaver, before the military affairs committee of congress in 1916.

Reading from the Weaver testimony occupied an hour and a half and Mr. Ford gained further respite by arguments over admissibility of a deposition by John Reed, the magazine writer in New York. An article by Reed referring to Mr. Ford as an industrial "miracle maker" was read to the jury yesterday. Counsel for the Tribune, according to Attorney Stevenson, were assumed by the writer that he would come here to testify, but later declined.

Judge Tucker reserved decision and Mr. Ford resumed his testimony under interrogation by Attorney Stevenson. "You heard what General Weaver said. Mr. Delavigne made an important departure from that, didn't he in writing your advertisement?"

"I am not a competent judge," answered the witness.

Attorney Alfred G. Murphy for the plaintiff objected and quoted General Weaver as stating that old guns were being remounted to have a longer range.

"Do you know how long it takes to mount a gun, Mr. Ford?" asked Mr. Stevenson.

"No."

"It takes a long time?"

"Depends on who does the mounting, I guess."

"You didn't print the truth about it?"

Ford Claims Responsibility.
"I employed Theodore Delavigne and told him to get the facts and to stick to the facts. If he omitted things I am responsible."

"Then you want this jury and the world to understand that you published a misstatement broadcast and didn't know what was in it; whether true or false?"

"I told him to get the facts."

"Are you charging Mr. Delavigne with dishonesty?"

"No."

The Tribune lawyer, by following Weaver's testimony further than the advertisement did, showed that General Weaver said that the coast guns were models of 1890 and would be unable to return the fire of modern naval guns.

WORLD'S MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 18.—Selling of recent speculative favorites was resumed at the opening of today's stock market, the sharp reaction of yesterday's final hour making further headway. Reversals ranging from large fractions to two points were recorded by Crucible and Bethlehem Steels, United Cigars, American International, Central Leather, Baldwin Locomotive and United States Rubber. Offsetting features included Royal Dutch, Mexican Petroleum and the more popular low-priced rails.

The early decline was partly checked probably as a result of further strength shown by oils and motors, with Stutz the chief feature at an extreme advance of 8 1/2 points. Before noon, however, renewed and broader offerings effected another and more general setback, steels, oils and rails and equipments losing 1 to 3 points. Among specialties the impairment ranged from 2 to 5 points. Rumors of prospective labor differences accelerated the break which gathered additional momentum from extensive short selling. Initial rates for call money were 6 to 7 per cent.

Prices rallied briskly at midday, easy rates for call money proving a favorable influence. Motors and kindred specialties were among the first to recover, and shipments also made substantial gains. Minor rails were in further demand, especially Missouri, Kansas and Texas issues.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, July 18.—Bullish sentiment predominated in the corn market today owing largely to favorable weather conditions. The break in foreign exchange and the resulting check on export demand for foodstuffs tended also to weaken values. Besides, domestic labor troubles received widespread notice. Opening quotations were ranged from 1 1/4 to 1 3/4 lower, with September 1.92 1/2 to 1.94 1/2, and December 1.61 1/2 to 1.62, were followed by decided further setbacks.

Enlarged crop estimates which were current did a good deal to put oats on the down grade. After opening 1/4 to 1 1/2 at 1 1/2 lower, including September at 78 1/2 to 79 1/2, the market continued to descend.

Provisions were weak and lower with grain and hogs. Labor difficulties at the stock yards here had a further depressing effect.
